

Waste pellets are coated in polymer and allowed to dry in sun

The polymer coating locks in pathogens while allowing water to evaporate